

Temperatures may be dropping and snowflakes might be falling, but there's still so much to do outdoors! Check off each activity you complete in the cold.

Search for the biggest icicle you can find!	Build a snow fort.	Collect pinecones.	Go sledding down a hill.	Try skiing or snowboarding.
Write words in the snow	Try winter nature photography.	Catch snowflakes on your tongue.	Make a bird feeder and hang it in a tree.	Go for a nature walk.
Take an ice fishing trip.	Make hot chocolate over a fire.	Create a backyard obstacle course.	Build a snowman.	See the zoo in a different season.
Make snow angels.	Look for antler sheds.	<ul> <li>++ Look +</li> <li>for winter</li> <li>constellations.</li> <li>+ ↓+</li> </ul>	Identify different evergreen trees.	Have a snowball fight.
Look for fresh animal tracks.	Go ice skating.	Go snowshoeing.	Jump into fresh snow.	Go on a sleigh ride.

